1 TITLE

Sexual Harassment Prevention Policy

2 POLICY STATEMENT

DECS is committed to providing a workplace for employees and a learning environment for children and students that is safe and free from sexual harassment. Sexual harassment is unacceptable conduct and will not be tolerated. DECS is committed to taking preventative action to ensure that there is no place for sexual harassment in a DECS workplace, work related context or learning environment.

3 PURPOSE

DECS has a legal obligation to prevent sexual harassment in the workplace and to take steps where necessary to ensure it is stopped. This policy supports DECS taking preventative action against sexual harassment and provides for remedial measures, including counselling or disciplinary action to redress any reported or found incidents of sexual harassment.

This policy affirms the DECS commitment to the prevention of sexual harassment and the implementation of the following principles:

- The right of all people to have a safe working and learning environment free from sexual harassment.
- Respect for all people in the workplace and learning environment.
- Support for diversity and inclusive work and learning practices.
- Fairness and equitable treatment of all people in the workplace and learning environment.
- Redress against unfair and unreasonable treatment.

3.1 Objectives

- To prohibit and prevent sexual harassment in a DECS workplace or learning environment.
- To create and maintain a culture in DECS that does not tolerate sexual harassment under any circumstances.
- To inform DECS employees and students about their rights and obligations with respect to sexual harassment through the provision of induction, information and training.
- To enable appropriate remedial action to be taken where required.
- To provide for the management and resolution of a sexual harassment complaint.

4 SCOPE

Sexual harassment is unlawful in all work related and educational contexts. This policy applies to all people in a DECS workplace including DECS employees, (current and prospective) Governing/School Council members and employees, students (current and prospective), volunteers, contractors, and any other workplace participants.

This policy applies in any DECS workplace, and includes places which have a work related context, including conferences, work functions, training programs, school excursions, and in which work related activities occur, irrespective of whether these occur within or outside of normal work hours or the primary place of work.

5 POLICY DETAIL

5.1 Legislative Context

Sexual harassment is unlawful conduct under the Commonwealth Sex Discrimination Act 1984 and the South Australian Equal Opportunity Act 1984 and similar provisions apply.

Under State law, sexual harassment is addressed in Part 6 – Other unlawful acts. Section 87 (9) provides:

(a) a person sexually harasses another (the person harassed) if –

(i) the person makes an unwelcome sexual advance, or an unwelcome request for sexual favours, to the person harassed; or

(ii) engages in other unwelcome conduct of a sexual nature in relation to the person harassed, in circumstances in which a reasonable person, having regard to all the circumstances, would have anticipated that the person harassed would be offended, humiliated or intimidated; and

(b) conduct of a sexual nature includes making a statement of a sexual nature to a person, or in the presence of a person, whether the statement is made orally or in writing; and

(c) a person works with another if both carry out duties or perform functions, in whatever capacity and whether for payment or not, in or in relation to the same business or organisation; and

(d) a person works for an authority if he or she carries out duties or performs functions, in whatever capacity and whether for payment or not, in or in relation to that authority; and

(e) workplace means a place (including a ship, aircraft or vehicle) at which a person works or attends in connection with the person's work.

Under State and Commonwealth legislation sexual harassment is a civil offence. Some forms of sexual harassment may also be offences under the criminal law (see Part 8 Definitions) and if criminal incidents are suspected they must be reported to the police.

Behaviour of a sexual nature in relation to children or young persons can have mandatory reporting implications. It is incumbent on teachers and other officers involved in the provision of education to students and who owe a duty of care to students, to protect them from risks of injury which are reasonably foreseeable.

Students aged 16 years or over, while in attendance at a place in connection with their education, can be held responsible for sexual harassment of another student of any age, and of a person who works at the educational institution.

All secondary schools are legally required to have a written policy against sexual harassment and make this readily available to students.

5.2 Legal Liability

5.2.1 Personal liability

A person covered by the sexual harassment provisions of State and Commonwealth legislation is personally liable for her or his own acts of sexual harassment. Under Commonwealth legislation, a person who causes, induces, aids, instructs or permits sexual harassment may incur liability as an accessory to the act. Where sexual harassment is found or reported, a person being the subject of a complaint can be held responsible for their conduct through an internal departmental complaint process, a complaint to the Equal Opportunity Commission or Australian Human Rights Commission or through legal proceedings.

5.2.2 Vicarious liability

Under State and Commonwealth legislation employers will be held vicariously liable for acts of sexual harassment committed by employees or agents while acting in the course of their employment or agency, unless it is demonstrated that all reasonable steps were taken to prevent the conduct. This means that if a DECS employee sexually harasses another employee, DECS will be legally liable unless it can be shown that reasonable steps were taken to prevent the conduct. Action as required, will be taken by DECS where conduct which could constitute sexual harassment is reported or found.

5.2.3 Code of Ethics

For the purposes of this policy and pursuant to the Public Sector Act 2009, all DECS employees must comply with the Professional Conduct Standards set out in the Code of Ethics for the South Australian Public Sector. Contravention of or non compliance with these will constitute misconduct and disciplinary action or termination may result.

Any complaint or reported behaviour involving allegations of sexual harassment by a student will be managed in accordance with requirements under DECS School Discipline and Anti-Bullying and Harassment Policies and grievance procedures.

Where a complaint or report indicates a criminal incident, the matter should be referred to the South Australian Police and DECS Investigations Unit.
